We are hiring!

If you are a physical therapist who loves treating patients in an outpatient orthopedic private practice setting with incredible colleagues surrounding you and an environment that has been described by our patients as “part of their family,” “not a stuck up medical facility” or “I’m surprised how fun physical therapy is” then you are crazy if you don’t call me.

I challenge you to find a more supportive physical therapy organization. Can you find an organization more focused on constantly challenging itself at doing things better? Can you find a physical therapy private practice with more comprehensive benefits? I challenge you to find a group of coworkers who have as much fun while being professional and providing first rate customer service to their patients, the insurance companies and our referral sources. Don’t waste your time looking anywhere else!

What type of person are we looking for? I seek people who care and will go the extra mile for our patients – after all it is our patients who are driving the growth (over 9% per year) of our practice. It is our patients who allow us to do what we love to do. It is our patients who spread the word to our referral sources, their family, friends and coworkers. Do you care enough to fit Joe in when your schedule is full because he is in pain and you might be able to ease his symptoms? Do you care enough to call Mary the afternoon following her first post-op session with you to simply find out how she is doing? Do you care enough to treat cranky, angry Jeremy with the same kindness as everyone else simply because he deserves it? Do you want to challenge all of us at Custom Physical Therapy to even greater heights with your new ideas?

Scout us out at www.custom-pt.com and click through to our blog to see a 2 minute video about us (you will laugh).
