

TITLE: Dual Enrollment Policy

POLICY:

Students enrolled at Pacific University's School of Occupational Therapy are expected to be fully engaged in the didactic and experiential learning within our engaging and demanding three-year curriculum. Expectations are that students also be fully engaged in the College of Health Professions interprofessional co-curriculum and other enriching activities that will help them develop as professionals and healthcare providers.

While enrolled at Pacific University's School of Occupational therapy, students must acknowledge and accept that simultaneous enrollment in another College/School or any other program, either internal or external to Pacific University, is strictly prohibited without permission from the Program Director. Students are responsible for disclosing their interests in, and pursuit of, other such programs. Discovery of undisclosed simultaneous enrollment in other programs may lead to dismissal from the Pacific University School of Occupational Therapy.
