IN 1983 WE INVITED 110 DOCTORS to the brand new resort area of Wailea on the Island of Maui for the inaugural “Fun in the Sun Conference.” In the past 32 years, the meeting evolved to become the Pacific University Island Eyes Conference, a week-long meeting attracting optometric physicians from throughout the United States and Canada. The meeting moves to different resorts throughout the Hawaiian Islands, offering excellent education and new experiences each year.

The 2015 Island Eyes Conference goes to Hawai’i Island, also known as the “Big Island,” the youngest and the largest island in the Hawaiian chain. This island is home to Hawaiian cowboys (paniolos), Hawai’i Volcanoes National Park, pristine beaches, waterfalls, Kona coffee plantations and much more. Our schedule for this classic winter conference starts with our lavish welcome reception on Sunday, daily continental breakfast for those registered for the education, morning classes, afternoons and evenings free. No classes are scheduled on Thursday, giving you a full day to explore Hawai’i with friends and family. We’ll host a golf outing on Wednesday, followed by happy hour hosted by the College of Optometry Deans.

Those registered for the educational program can earn up to 29 hours of COPE approved continuing education. Our Island Eyes faculty include premier educators and clinicians: William Hills OD, MD; Randy Kojima FAAO; Matt Lampa OD; Rick London MA, OD; Elaine Pedersen; Carlo Pelino OD; Maynard Pohl OD; Leo Skorin OD, DO; and Lisa Umphrey MD.

The Hilton Waikoloa Village is a spectacular oceanfront resort located on the sunny Kohala Coast of Hawai’i. Located on 62 acres, the resort features three pools, a lagoon with a white sand beach, 14 unique restaurants and bars, great resort shopping and two championship golf courses. The beautiful grounds also showcase an amazing art collection from Asian, Western and Oceanic cultures. Don’t miss your chance to swim with the dolphins through the Dolphin Quest experience at the Hilton Waikoloa. Shuttles will also transport you to the Kings’ Shops and Queens’ MarketPlace in the Waikoloa Resort area.
