

Pacific University's OUT List

Pacific University's Center for Gender Equity is excited to celebrate National Coming Out Day! Coming Out is an important rite of passage for many LGBTQIA+ people, and it is an on-going process. As long as there continues to be misinformation, negative stereotypes, discrimination, and violence against LGBTQ+ populations, coming out remains vital in our fight for civil liberties. Sharing our authentic selves also creates connection and community, lets others know they are not alone, and provides an opportunity for allies to be supportive. We also honor that it is not always safe for people to come out - especially young people financially dependent on their caregivers.

This list hopes to both serve as a reminder for students that there are many LGBTQIA+ and allied staff and faculty on campus to support them and that there is strength in numbers.
