

TESOL (Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages)
College of Education (COE)

<http://www.pacificu.edu/current-undergraduate/academics/academic-resources/academic-advising-handbook/tesol>

The TESOL minor offered through the College of Education is intended to equip students with knowledge and skills necessary for teaching English as a second or foreign language. The program prepares students for teaching English overseas and in various educational settings. Those who wish to enter a graduate degree program in TESOL will build a strong foundation in this field. This program does not lead to an endorsement in ESOL at K-12, unless students are already admitted to the undergraduate initial teaching licensure program in the College of Education. Undergraduate students may earn a minor in TESOL by completing the following requirements:

Language and Cultural Competency Requirements: This requirement can be fulfilled by choosing option (1) or (2) below:

(1) Language courses (4 to 12 credits): FREN, CHIN, SPAN, GERN, JAPN
